

Section 2: Recording and Usage Policy

Keynote Lectures

Keynote events, such as the Hormuud Lecture, the ASR Distinguished Lecture, the Current Issues Plenary, or the ASA Presidential Lecture, will be posted to the ASA's YouTube page after the conference. Any discussions, questions, or other video recorded material from the keynote events will ultimately be available for public viewing.

Usage

Photographs of presentations, slides, or materials at the ASA Annual Meeting—whether expressly copyrighted or not—may not be published, reproduced, or distributed. Do not photograph any such images that are labeled as confidential and/or proprietary.

All content, images, and data shared at the ASA Annual Meeting are intended for presentation only, and are not to be filmed, reproduced, streamed, or distributed to the public or press.

The ASA is not responsible for unauthorized recordings, but reserves the right to ban anyone who records sessions without permission from future ASA events, Annual Meetings, and other programming.

All presenters may add the following disclaimer to any presented materials:

Confidential – Do not duplicate or distribute without written permission from [Author Name]. The content of this presentation is proprietary and confidential information of [Author Name]. It is not intended to be distributed to any third party without the written consent of the [Author Name].

Consent to Use of Photographic and Video Images

The ASA may photograph, videotape, or webcast ASA meetings, activities, and ASA-sponsored events [such as keynote lectures]. Registration, attendance at, and/or participation in any of these events constitute an agreement by the registrant or attendee to these activities and to the use and distribution of the registrant's or attendee's image, likeness, or voice in photographs, videotapes, electronic reproductions, and audiotapes.

Zoom

The 2022 ASA Annual Meeting is an in-person meeting. The ASA will maintain its pre-pandemic video conference policy during in-person meetings: Zoom presentations will only be allowed with express written permission for those that were denied a visa to present at the conference hotel. All other participants are expected to present in-person, during their scheduled session.

Presenters that are given permission to teleconference must also receive approval from their session chair, and work with their chair directly to organize their Zoom presentation. While the ASA does provide projectors and technological support onsite, the Association cannot guarantee consistent internet bandwidth or smooth teleconferencing for approved presenters.

Unauthorized use of Zoom to host a hybrid session*, either for presentations or to share content with unregistered online audiences, may result in future participation restrictions.

*This pre-pandemic policy is still in place to ensure the financial viability of the ASA. The Association is contractually obligated to fill a minimum number of hotel guest rooms each Annual Meeting or face exorbitant financial penalties. In-person participation is therefore necessary to ensure that the ASA exists to host its scholarly events and meetings well into the future. The ASA does host online events throughout the year to increase accessibility and participation outside the Annual Meeting.
